

“Towards Climate Resilient Livestock Production System in Punjab”

envisions to ensure sustainable levels of livestock production through scientific intervention, assisted reproduction through scientific interventions, assisted reproductive technologies, environment friendly housing and measures for timely detection and control of animal and zoonotic diseases. The project would focus on 3,000 number of small and marginal farmers in Ludhiana, Bhatinda and Tarn Taran districts of Punjab. The project is being executed by Punjab State Council of Science and Technology with a total outlay of Rs. 17.40 Crores.

Click here to download Project Document

Click here to download Publication