1. PUDUCHERRY MAP

2. UTP PROFILE

The Union Territory of Puducherry (UTP) comprises of four erstwhile French establishments of Puducherry, Karaikal, Mahe and Yanam. Puducherry region is interspersed with enclaves of Villupuram and Cuddalore districts of Tamil Nadu. Karaikal region is surrounded by Nagapattinam district of Tamil Nadu. Yanam region is near Kakinada in Andhra Pradesh and Mahe region is in the west coast near Tellicherry in Kerala.

The climate of Puducherry is classified under Koppen-Geiger system as Tropical Wet and Dry. The Puducherry and Karaikal regions have a temperature range of 240 to 38.20 Celsius with an average (2017-18 to 2019-20) annual rainfall of 1169 mm in Puducherry and 1278 mm in Karaikal, most of which is received during the north-east monsoon. Mahe receives an average (2017-18 to 2019-20) annual rainfall of 3140 mm and the temperature ranges from 240 to 330 Celsius. In Yanam, the average annual rainfall (2017-18 to 2019-20) is 772 mm and the temperature fluctuates from 280 to 420 Celsius. Most of the rainfall in Mahe and Yanam regions is received in the South-West Monsoon period. The relative humidity of the UTP ranges from 68% to 83%.

Urbanisation, in percentage terms, amounted to 68.31% as against the all India level at 31.16%. 3. Potential Linked Credit Plans (PLPs)

NABARD, in 1988-89, took the initiative of preparing the district-wise Potential Linked Credit Plans (PLPs) to guide banks in their credit planning exercise. The PLPs map the potential in priority sectors which could be exploited with institutional credit within a specific time frame. PLPs are intended to provide a meaningful direction to the flow of credit to different sectors at the ground level taking into account all relevant factors.

Release of Potential Linked Credit Plan (PLP) prepared by NABARD

The various linkage and other support required to be provided by line departments to facilitate credit flow as planned are also listed in the PLPs. A detailed consultative process with line departments, financial institutions, promotional and developmental agencies, etc., is adopted in the preparation of PLPs to have a meaningful link between development planning and of credit planning.
